Station, Mt. Dora, Fla. Date—November 1st.

The Misses Ford, Rogers and Hull, strangers to Mt. Dora, arrive. "Where shall they stop, at the Lake Side? Grand View? or Villa Dora?" They finally agree to separate and try each hotel and compare notes.

Result—Miss Ford says the Villa Dora is a dream and she doesn't expect to wake up until May 1st. Miss Rogers says she has engaged her room at the Grand View for the season. No need to look further. Miss Hull says Mr. Thayer of the Lake Side certainly does know how to run a hotel and that he has promised her a corner room for the balance of the season in a few days.

The discussion is still going on. One point they agree on. They expect to make reservations at their respective hotels for next season before they go North!

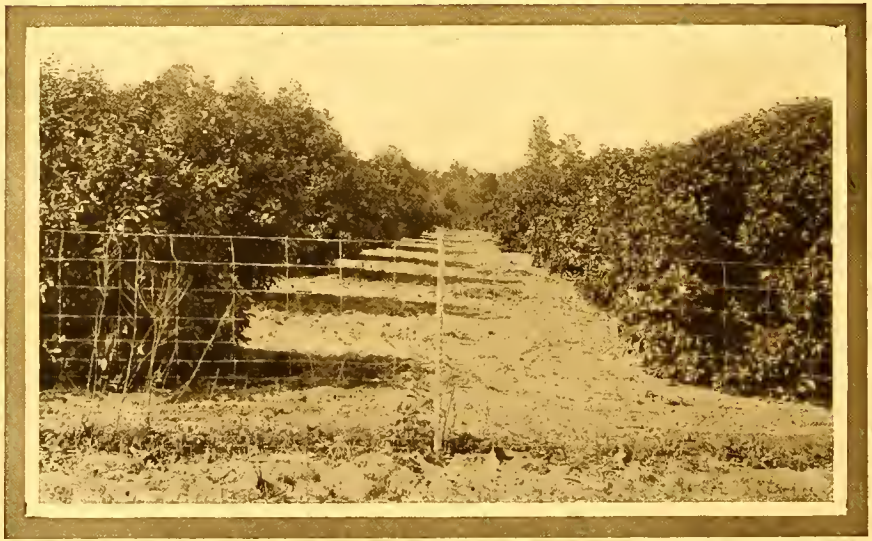
A Typical Five Year Old Grove



PROFITS IN THE CITRUS INDUSTRY.

We do not hesitate to state that there is no branch of fruit culture where the returns are as great on the amount invested for a period of years as can be shown from properly cared for Citrus Groves. Ask the man whose Grove looks as though he gave it a chance.

The Golden Triangle

The lines connecting the towns of Mt. Dora, Tavares and Eustis form an Equilateral triangle, each side being 5½ miles long. This forms the Famous Golden Triangle, deriving its name from the fact that within the territory embraced more Golden Grape Fruit and Oranges are grown than in any like area in the State.

There's a Reason.

Turn back to page 23 and note the vast expanse of water to the north and west, then secure a weather map of the U. S. The two combined will tell the story. This vast expanse of water so tempers the air that we are warmer in Winter and Cooler in Summer than 200 miles further South. Our perfectly drained hill sides, with their ideal Orange and Grape Fruit soil would avail us nothing without the Lakes.

The Combination is Perfection.

ASSISTANCE

We have the land and the nursery stock, but need your assistance in developing the groves.

INFORMATION

Question.—If you wished to purchase an apple orchard, but knew nothing about an orchard, would you consult with a stranger who never owned one; the owner of an orchard where the trees were filled with dead wood and who you found working for some one else, or the owner of an orchard that is the pride of the community? Ask the owners of the good-looking groves.
